Our Programs

Our Kinship Navigation program supports relatives and nonrelatives who are caring for children during an open case. The program's goal is to help the caregivers understand and navigate the child welfare system while connecting them to essential resources like financial assistance, support groups, and community services in order to nurture a stable environment for the children.

The Responsible Fatherhood program supports fathers involved in the child welfare system by helping them connect to resources like employment support, benefits assistance, and peer support groups while guiding them through complex systems like court and case processes. The program empowers fathers to build stability, strengthen parenting skills, and create healthier, more connected families.

Navigating Adulthood provides guidance on essentials like housing, employment, education, and life skills, while connecting participants to community resources and opportunities. We work with young adults who have aged out, are approaching 18, or were formerly in care and are now parents with an open case,

The Foster Navigation program provides guidance to licensed foster parents on available services, benefits, and community supports while offering ongoing encouragement and problem-solving assistance. The goal of the program is to help strengthen placements, reduce stress, and ensure children receive consistent, stable care.

Evidence shows that children do better in the care of people who they already know. Our Family Finding program focuses on identifying and engaging supportive relatives and trusted adults in a child's life. The program works to build lasting connections and strengthen relationships that can provide stability, guidance, and a sense of belonging.

Fingerprinting services help ensure the safety of children by facilitating required screenings for caregivers and household members. By supporting timely and compliant screenings, the program helps families move forward in the placement process while maintaining a safe environment for children.
